The image displays a template for printing labels on a grey background. It consists of four columns of labels, each with a header above it: 'Left Side', 'Right Side', 'Left Side', and 'Right Side'. Each of these four columns contains eight individual labels stacked vertically, for a total of 32 labels. The labels are rectangular and have a light grey fill. They are separated from each other by thin horizontal lines. The columns are separated by dashed vertical lines. At the bottom left corner of the grid, there are two small scissors icons, one positioned near the top edge and one near the bottom edge, indicating where to cut out the labels.
